

GoodLife

YOUR POSITIVE ACHIEVEMENTS

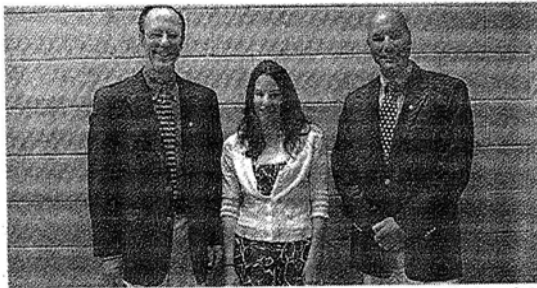

Astor Learning Center honors student of year

Tim Pitts received the prestigious Student of the Year award last month during a ceremony at Astor Services for Children & Families Residential Treatment Programs in Rhinebeck.

The ceremony celebrated the achievements of all the children at the Astor Learning Center by honoring each child with an award. Awards were presented for academic achievements, improvement in social skills and strengths in athletics, art and music.

Pitts showed "exemplary achievement, not only in academics and athletics, but also as a member of the Astor community."

In addition, student Kailah Ridley and staff member Cassandra

Courtesy photo

Millbrook High School graduate and Roderick "Bud" Goe Scholarship winner Chelsea Mailler with Tim Collopy, left, head of the Lions scholarship committee, and Mike Rossi, president of the Millbrook Lions Club.

Taylor were presented with the Joel Robert Crenshaw Award. The award is presented to a student and teacher each year by David Crenshaw, an Astor board member. The award is named for his brother. The recipients of the award best exemplify the Spirit of Astor: caring, resiliency, compassion and commitment to others.

"This event is a chance for us to recognize and appreciate the hard work and commitment of the children and staff here at Astor,"

Executive Director and CEO Jim McGuirk said.

Visit www.astorservices.org.

Millbrook Lions Club awards scholarship

Chelsea Mailler, who graduated from Millbrook High School in June, is the recipient of the Roderick "Bud" Goe Scholarship.

The Millbrook Lions Club awards the scholarship each year in honor of the late Goe, a life member of the club.

The $500 scholarship goes to a graduating student of Millbrook High School who is in good academic standing and demonstrates outstanding community service.

According to club President Mike Rossi, Mailler earned the scholarship because of "her extensive involvement in both scholastic and community activities."

Do you have good news to share? We want to spread the word. E-mail items to lfe@poughkeepsiejournal.com or call Ray Fashona at 845-437-4883.

Poughkeepsie Journal July 2, 2009